

Newsec Takes Over Kungsleden's Financial Management

Newsec has won the prestigious assignment to manage the Swedish stock listed real estate company Kungsleden's financial management. This is the first time that Kungsleden chooses to outsource their financial management and it is the second large project like this that Newsec wins in a short time (having reached an agreement with Hemfosa in the spring of this year). The assignment for Kungsleden covers financial management for all their 176 Group companies and 243 properties with a total let surface of 2.3 million sqm.

"We have invested in building Sweden's best team within financial management and are now starting to see proof that this is well received by the market. In our Gothenburg office we currently have some 130 full time co-workers working with this. We can notice that more and more property owners see the benefits in outsourcing this to companies that can invest in new technology and the right competence", says Mattias Johansson, Head of Newsec Property Asset Management in Sweden.
